

Primary Search (Elementary School) on EBSCO 2017 & 2018

BSCO has designed an Elementary School database, called Primary Search.

From EBSCO's marketing of the product, many school districts and parents are led to believe that the content is already filtered to be age-appropriate. This system has pornography available, as well as links to hardcore pornography websites - all of which are not caught by school or home filters as the filters are set to allow access to everything through EBSCO. In addition, much of the sex ed material teaches essentially that anything goes between ages 5-11.

Sample of Material from June 2017 (after EBSCO claims the Primary Search product has been completely cleaned)

[caption id="attachment_19031" align="aligncenter" width="1733"]

The screenshot shows a search result for the term "anal" on the EBSCO Primary Search platform. The search results page displays the following information:

- Title: HOW TO BE A BETTER BOTTOM. By: GOLDSTEIN, DR. EVAN, Advocate, 00018996, Apr2017, Issue 1090
- Database: Points of View Reference Center
- Section: SEX & HEALTH, BOOTY BASICS
- Text: Shame-free tips on increasing your sexual health and pleasure. While this is advice for those who identify as "bottoms" anyone who has anal sex should have an understanding of the process involved in successful bottoming. It will help you be a better "top" and positively affect overall sexual experiences.
- Additional text: The act of bottoming is a true art, and whether it's your first attempt or you've been experimenting with it for quite some time, analyzing your readiness and the proper techniques not only allow you to reach heightened sexual pleasure, but also enable safe and enduring practices. If you've never tried bottoming, but you're curious, let's just address straight away that it won't always just happen right then and there. Successful and pleasurable bottoming takes time and practice through dilation exercises, training of your self-awareness, and control of the pelvic floor. The good news? Bottoming shouldn't hurt. Of course, it may be uncomfortable at first and you might initially question how there could ever be pleasure in it – something that happens with vaginal sex the first time as well-but like anything it takes practice, patience, and following a few simple guidelines to enhance this sexual practice. I often tell patients that great bottoms have been doing it for quite some time, with many first experiencing it in their youth. Unfortunately, no one showed us the right way to bottom in our high school sexual education class. Still, it's never too late to learn, and we all enjoy new and positive sexual experiences. Here's my 101 guide to bottoming.
- BEING WITH DILATION: Get yourself an anal trainer kit, and start training for dilation two to three times a week (for as little as five minutes each time). Use a water-based lubricant and start with the smallest plug. Insert just to the point of pressure. Hold it there for a few seconds, then try to engage the muscles. Allow yourself to relax before removing the plug, then re-lubricate and re-insert to the point of pressure. Repeating this process will prove successful over time, so don't get discouraged if the first time you only get a small portion of the tip in. Repeat the process three to five times. The key is to remember there are three sets of muscles that need to relax for a successful entry. Think of it as a funnel, and the entire funnel needs to be a well-lubed cylinder. We don't advise inserting the entire length of the plug and leaving it in on the first try, because removal may be difficult, which could cause tearing. After four to five sessions you can insert that size without any issues, you're ready to graduate to the next size. Don't forget to enjoy it if you become stimulated during the process, go for it! Not only is it a pleasurable side effect to your dilation training, but you can start to channel your orgasm anal and begin to gain control overtime.
- READY FOR THE REAL THING: When you've successfully mastered a medium size plug, you're ready to graduate to the real thing. Congratulations! It's always best to start off with you in total control and a partner you trust to be patient in letting you decide the level you're comfortable with. Some people use dilators first, either with or without a sexual partner, to "warm up" and remind themselves of the practiced techniques. Once the engines have been started, the bottom needs to sit on the tip of the penis, allowing control of entry. Use plenty of lubricant and remember the different sets of muscles that need to be released to allow access. Start off using the same technique of inserting until you feel pressure, hold it there, pull out, re-lubricate and repeat. The three to five-time rule applies here as well. Being on top of the penis really allows for you to determine your level of comfort. If pain occurs, you can stop, call it a day, and try again another time. It's not worth causing pain or a potential injury.
- GRADUATING TO NEW POSITIONS: Once you have fully received the penis, the last hurdle is to add new positions into the mix, like doggy-style. Now, be sure to take this easy to begin with – it's an intense position and tops can get a little eager. Make sure you have mastered receiving to minimize any injury and maximize pleasure. Start with you receiving on top and gaining control of your muscles before moving around to new positions.
- INJURY HAPPENS TO THE BEST OF US: Proper techniques are obvious: a must, but even brand new cars can break down. The most common issue related to anal sex trauma are tears, also known as anal fissures. If this happens, take a break, but don't out

This article for elementary school students gives step-by-step instructions on the excruciating process of preparing one's body for anal sex. It explains the use of butt-plugs and encourages readers to not take a break from engaging in anal sex, lest they have to go through the painful process again.[/caption]

Evidence collected by The National Center on Sexual Exploitation. For more information visit www.endsexualexploitation.org

[caption id="attachment_19035" align="aligncenter" width="1751"]

The screenshot shows a search interface for 'explora'. The search term is 'nudity'. The search results show a single result titled 'Paris Jackson defends nudity' from the 'Brampton Guardian (ON), 05/13/2017'. The article text is visible, discussing the author's views on nudity and feminism. The interface includes options for 'Detailed Record', 'HTML Full Text', and 'Find Similar Results using SmartText Searching'. The search results are displayed in a list format with a 'Result List' and 'Refine Search' option, showing 6 of 4,509 results.

Article highlights how a teen activist posts nude images to Instagram and fights to make public nudity an acceptable practice. Why do 7-10 year-olds need this information? Parents are not aware that this is the message their young kids are getting in a school setting and are therefore not able to counter it by sharing their own beliefs and standards.[/caption]

[caption id="attachment_19034" align="aligncenter" width="1727"]

Detailed Record

HTML Full Text

Find Similar Results
using SmartText Searching

Result List Refine Search 3 of 4,500

Choose Language

Title: The Original Wrecking Ball. By Lidz, Gogo. Newsweek Global, 00289604, 11/15/2013, Vol. 161, Issue 41

Database: Points of View Reference Center

The Original Wrecking Ball

Contents

Defiant and
punchy/rudious,
Bettie Page gave naughty a good name

Culture

Defiant and punchy/rudious, Bettie Page gave naughty a good name

In the past 50 years two Nashville gals have kicked up a ruckus with their exuberant, naughty-but-nice posing - singer Milky Cyrus and pin-up queen Bettie Page. Neither could be described as the Girl Next Door. The former markets herself as an out-of-control neighbor's kid, the latter revealed in the guise of an out-of-control neighbor. But when it comes to pop-culture legs, the gains of Cyrus are nowhere near as long as those of Page, who attained cult status long after she vanished without a trace in 1957, at the height of her fame. On the most recent Forbes list of Top Earning Dead Celebrities, Page ranked eighth, tied with the brainier but less curvaceous Albert Einstein.

The original Wrecking Ball - infamous for her whips, six-inch fetter heels and guileless, guileless grin - died five years ago, at 85. Back in the 1950s, Page helped usher in the sexual revolution by appearing nude - or nearly so - in girly mags with lacy titles like Peek, Wink, Gaze, Stare, Titter, Eye-fu!, and Chicks and Chuckles. Most were kept under the counter or mailed in plain brown wrappers.

Today, she's everywhere. Postcards, posters, playing cards, calendars, lunch boxes, beach towels, fridge magnets, rum labels, mud flaps, and hundreds of websites pay tribute. There's a Zombie Bettie Page subculture with online portals devoted to undead variations of her images. On Halloween, the town of Roswell, Ga., even hosted a Bombshell Bettie2 Zombie Pin-Up Contest.

Katy Perry has copied her bangs; Rihanna, her dominatrix ensembles; Beyoncé, in music videos, the raunchiness of her stag films. New York City has a Nurse Bettie bar and a Bettie Page clothing store, one of 17 in the country. More than a dozen books pay homage to her, and half as many movies, including the 2006 biopic, The Notorious Bettie Page, starring Gretchen Mol.

The latest addition to the canon is the documentary Bettie Page Reveals All, which opens in Manhattan on November 22 before going into limited release. Directed by Mark Mori, best-known for the Oscar-nominated 1991 doc, Building Bombs, it's narrated by Page from audio tapes she made at the end of her life. Before this, her husky middle Tennessee drawl could only be heard by most people on a couple of TV interviews and a 1953 Strip-o-rama film loop (she stars as a genie and purrs, "Of course, I'm real!")

There's not much to say about the filmmaking part of Bettie Page Reveals All because there's not a whole lot of it on display. Page wouldn't allow Mori to film her, explaining: "I want to be remembered as I was in the pictures." The younger Page always left something to the imagination. In the case of Bettie Page Reveals All, imagine a PowerPoint presentation crammed with stock footage and scored by the Freeconferencecall.com Orchestra.

Between slices of vintage cheesecake, a conga line of still-besotted photographers and former boyfriends attests to Page's allure. We learn that she loved hamburgers almost as much as coveting without clothes; that she carried a brick in her purse to fend off unwanted suitors. In Mori's interviews not included in the film, she admits that she only had three orgasms in her life and disapproved of hardcore porn. While living at a halfway house in the early 1990s, she happened upon an X-rated magazine and was appalled by its graphic contents.

If Page doesn't exactly reveal all in the documentary, she does bare enough to hold our attention. The early Playboy centerfold (Miss January, 1955) who graced a million service-station walls candidly discusses her Baptist upbringing, her molestation at the hands of her "sex-friend" father (even barnyard animals weren't safe), her stay in an orphanage, her gang rape, her not-so-brilliant career as a schoolteacher, her move to New York and "discovery" by an off-duty cop on a Coney Island beach in 1949. It was the cop who persuaded Page to change her hairstyle to those spectacular bangs.

She was soon getting paid $10 an hour to model for camera clubs, consisting of several dozen male enthusiasts who would pay to snap her picture in a variety of "art poses." Once while posing in the all-together in upstate New York she was arrested for indecent exposure. The word indecent outraged Page. "There's nothing indecent about me!" she tells Mori.

Page talks about acting in five-minute, 8-mm epics like "Bettie's Clown Dance" and "Fearful Ordeal in Restraint-land." She talks about getting subpoenaed, in 1955, to appear before a Senate committee investigating pornography; the father of a Florida boy scout who had committed suicide found bondage photos of her in his son's room. Though Page was never called to testify, she says the tumult and other pressures made her quit modeling. She became a born-again Christian, hung up her leopard-print bikini for good and disappeared from public view. She was 34.

This article for 7-10 year-old readers glamorizes the life of pornography & BDSM performer, Bettie Page.[/caption]

DD EBSCO Explora Primary Start Spreading the Nudes Lexile 1040-Full PDF

STOP TRAFFIC: A commuter admires model Sella Nabiyah's corporeal canvas, part of a Times Square exhibit by the infamous New York body painter Anselm Golub. He has been painting bodies

Sample of Material from February 2017

Login to Primary Search, the database specifically for elementary students. These screenshots come from a school in Berkeley, CA, but the same material is accessible through the few accounts we checked around the U.S.

Primary Search

Primary Search provides full text for more than 70 popular, magazines for elementary school research. All full text articles included in the database are assigned a reading level indicator (Lexiles), and full text information dates as far back as 1990.

Title List More Information

---

MAS Ultra - School Edition

Designed specifically for high school libraries, this database contains full text for nearly 500 popular, high school magazines. MAS Ultra - School Edition also provides more than 350 full text reference books. 85,670

---

MOUNTAIN RIDGE MIDDLE

Searching: Primary Search | Choose Databases

sex education  ?

Search Options Basic Search Advanced Search Search History

Evidence collected by The National Center on Sexual Exploitation. For more information visit www.endsexualexploitation.org

A search of the terms "sex education" yielded hundreds of comprehensive sex ed materials. The first few articles listed recommended websites for elementary school-aged children to learn more about sex. These outside websites include advice that normalizes sexual activity at this young age, encourages looking at pornography to learn more about sex; normalizes BDSM activity; and more:

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the following elements:

- Browser Tabs: InPrivate, College Library Listings for P..., Why no one in your hous..., Home, Library / Research and Hom...
- Address Bar: https://web.a.ebscohost.com/ehost/pdfviewer/pdfview
- Search Bar: Result List, Refine Search, Download PDF
- EBSCOhost Sidebar:
  - PDF Full Text
  - Source: Girls' Life
  - Date: April 1, 2014
  - Inside this work
  - Full Text Contents
  - Table of Contents:
- Main Content:
  - Advertisement for naturallife.com featuring lip smacker.com products with the text: "They're the perfect reminder that 'some days you just have to create your own sunshine!'"
  - Advertisement for lipsmacker.com with the text: "Delicious, high-impact glosses. Meet Lip Smacker's new lineup: Luxe and Luscious. Luxe Lip Smacker is a high-shine, prestige-inspired lip gloss, while Luscious is an ultra-moisturizing gloss stick. Both are available in six sweet flavors and a variety of finishes."
  - Article text starting with: "Why no one in your house is talking about THIS. some point, so if yours haven't brought it up yet, you can likely assume that it'll be on the table sometime soon. But if you have questions now (even if you're not considering having sex for, like, ever), consider taking a deep breath and braving it. You may believe your mom won't be up for it, but think about whether she's hinted around at all—maybe 'someone' left a birds 'n' bees book on your desk or a pamphlet about puberty suddenly appeared in your room. Then, plan your approach. Maybe you'll mention it in the car or leave a note in her purse. You could send an email or shoot a text (though be careful if you go digital: 'Mom' is just a quick scroll away from Morgan or Matt). Some girls and their moms create a journal where they write notes back and forth. But no matter what method you choose, being honest with her upfront will help."
  - Section header: Our Fave Sex Sites and Books
  - Section 1: Sex, Etc. (sexetc.org) - "The content is written by teens, which means it's the info you're really looking for (no worries, adults oversee the site, too)."
  - Section 2: Scarleteen (scarleteen.com) - "The writers on this site definitely get into the relationship side of sex, but aren't afraid to give straightforward answers to even the most OMG-worthy questions."
  - Section 3: Sex: A Book for Teens - "Nikol Hasler's book was released after years of producing her web series, which was known for serving up sex advice with a side of humor."

Lily wishes her mom would've tried to have The Talk with her again, because she spent so many years in the dark.

Years later, the two can have open conversations about sex, even though they may not see eye-to-eye on everything. Still, once they established a line of communication about it, their relationship has only gotten stronger.

"I came to her the second time around, and the conversations have been informative ever since," Lily says. "Now, she talks to me about my relationships -- and I know how to keep myself healthy."

Our Fave Sex Sites and Books
Sex, Etc. \(sexetc.org\)

The content is written by teens, which means it's the info you're really looking for (no worries, adults oversee the site, too).

Scarleteen \(scarleteen.com\)
 The writers on this site definitely get into the relationship side of sex, but aren't afraid to give straightforward answers to even the most OMG-worthy questions.

Sex: A Book for Teens
 Nikol Hasler's book was released after years of producing her web series, which was known for serving up sex advice with a side of humor.

HONEY, LET'S TALK ABOUT SEX

MOST GL GIRLS AGREE: HAVING THE TALK WITH THEIR MOMS CAN BE MAJORLY MORTIFYING. BUT IS THE FEAR OF THE BIRDS AND THE BEES KEEPING GIRLS IN THE DARK?

OMG, DID SHE SAY SEX?! AWKWARD

SEX EDUCATION

YOUR SAY

SEX ED

FUN

ACTION CENTER

BLOG

MAGAZINE

Follow sextetc

Same-sex couples need sex ed, too! Here's how same-sex couples can practice safer sex.

Sex, Etc. February 2017 Filter by post type Follow Join tumblr

Hi anon. Thank you for your question. Cold sores on the mouth are me and my boyfriend were grinding each other with our underwears on, can I get pregnant?

Hi anon. There is no risk for pregnancy with the situation you described. Sperm cannot travel through clothing. We get a lot of questions about how pregnancy happens, pre-cum, semen and sperm so we

How can I learn to love my long labia and not feel embarrassed when having sex????

Hi anon. Thanks for your question. A lot of people have this concern. They do not like the way their vulva looks. The thing is though that everyone's vulva is unique and special. If you looked at pictures of vulvas, you would find that vulvas are Even sexperts need a break!

Our hours of operation are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday - Friday

Black LGBTQ History Icons

chanellechan3. lgbt-history

March 10

Puberty: Potential Acne Zone vs Acne Free Zone

Thank you for your quick response with my situation. Does the birth control implant have the same protection against pregnancy any time of day and any day of week? She has had it for almost two years now. I understand the risk of My bf was inbetween my legs and he had his boxers and sweatpants on. I had my of this happening. And I would like to know if a normal 6 day period with a heavy flow at first really really was before touching myself, but 20-ish minutes after I got it in my hair. I messed with my hair and then fingered myself shortly after. Is

#teens #sex ed #pregnancy

Girls marry boys, not other girls.

I'm going to tell the men in the room something that they probably don't know. Remember, are you best friends?

http://sextetc.tumblr.com/post/156889365681/okay-i-asked-this-but-it-was-confusing-so-what 125%

Scarleteen
sex ed for the real world

inclusive, comprehensive, supportive
SEXUALITY and RELATIONSHIPS
info for teens and emerging adults

GO TO: bodies · gender · sexual identity · relationships
sex & sexuality · sexual health · pregnancy & parenting
abuse · sexual politics · in your own words · etc · advice

text-only · new here? [social media icons] get answers search

IS SOMETHING WRONG WITH ME BECAUSE I LIKE BDSM? CAN I LIKE IT AND STILL BE A FEMINIST?

Share Like 4 people like this. Be the first of your friends.

alice42 asks:

"For as long as I can remember, I have been turned on by imagining my own pain and humiliation. I am going out with someone for the first time now, and we've been together for almost eight months. Recently we've started experimenting with very mild SM-type things--tying each other up, biting, spanking. I love it, and so does he. But is this normal? Should I be worried that this turns me on more than anything else we've done together? Is there something wrong with me? (I've never been abused). And can I still be a feminist if I last off on being dominated by men?"

self-care.

Want some great sex ed for not-yet or just-barely teens?

Hey fellow sex educators, parents, big sisters and brothers, aunts and uncles and anyone else who's got younger people between the ages of 10 and 14 in your life! There's a new, fantastic sex education resource that's been added to the sex ed video lexicon we think you'll be awfully glad to discover. We're sure proud to be a supporting partner.

AMAZE is a series of videos expressly designed to provide accurate, fun and engaging sex, sexuality and bodies education for pre-teens and very young teens.

Rebel Well No Matter Where You Are

SCARLETEEN

sex ed for the real world

inclusive, comprehensive, supportive
SEXUALITY and RELATIONSHIPS
info for teens and emerging adults

GO TO: bodies · gender · sexual identity · relationships
sex & sexuality · sexual health · pregnancy & parenting
abuse · sexual politics · in your own words · etc · advice

Donate

text-only · new here? RSS f t t

lookie here: here's how you can rebel well right now *

we're crushing on:

Rebel Well: A Starter Survival Guide To A Trumped America

Intimacy: The Whys, Hows, How-Not's, and So-Not's

When Sex "Just Happened" (And How to Make It Happen Instead)

Not Everything You Wanted To Know About Puberty (But Pretty Darn Close)

by teens for teens

Like 28

Tweet

680

tumblr

search on sex etc.

LOGIN

sex, etc.

